

Our Dialectic is Sinister

It is important to note before reading all this the key thing to remember is that the Sinister Dialectic of History is on a basic individual level being opposition to and defiance of the status quo along with whatever is dominant. And due to the types of people attracted to it because they are often embodying it unconsciously already. Those who actually are in truth not the pseudo or psychotic types attracted by the allure of evil and like to pretend to be to feel important and tough or unique. Nor are mere sympathizers or supporters. This means the average and below will never be able to live this way of life nor should they because it by its nature must be an elite minority of the strong against the weak and due to this are factually aristocratic, great leaders of history, at the forefront of human evolution and otherwise are or capable of becoming adepts and beyond therefore. And in the minimum sense live practically by said opposition whether or not they know it in words and are aware of it.

Blood Chaos Covenant is the adversarial Vāmācāra which as a Tradition is adversarial and heterodox thusly is therefore amoral and extremely opposed to both spiritually and practically to the status quo. The converse of such is to be part of the status quo which as described below is totalitarian not fascist or National Socialist but yes corporate and international capitalism by a bourgeois decadent elite with some form of psychopathic often violent gluttonous practices and also social engineering. However, due to most people in general being too weak, cowardly or intelligent enough to be able to wake up to the situation are now even statistically empirically proven to be mere worker drones with no ability to become anything else or desire to do so. If they do somehow strive for more usually they are then petite bourgeois who are just as bad just not given the same power to avoid it falling into someone else's hands. Thus most American presidents then are outer representatives of the internal bourgeois. Who have only gotten so far due to chance, mob rule or by blood. And are expected themselves to follow a what I suspect is a now 2000 year or old more plan for a "New World Order" which is unsustainable, unnatural and objectively worse than any system before it. Lying and knowing they are lying to do so by giving a sense of false security, hope things get better or false freedoms. Any legal or illegal movement which tries to change things is outlawed with resulting imprisonment, re education, total socioeconomic rejection which also requires one regardless of extreme social rejection for said beliefs to conform to or basically by forms of capital punishment murdered.

This is universally today enforced thusly by prison, ostracization and bullying done usually only when there's enough of them so they have safety in numbers with entire armies or police to back them up with homicide if need be. With its lifeblood from capitalist materialism along with its usury and to further dominate is not even backed up by a treasury of gold or similar. The agendas of most who own globalist industrial or technological firms like Google and other massive monopolizing also fall in line with this with firings, refusing to do business with or allowing any person or persons who believe anything different and due to its totalitarian monopoly with immense wealth and influential support from mass media and celebrities created a situation where even a mundanely operated small business can no longer succeed nor any opposition real or imagined voiced. There is also from this wars for corporate interests or said wars fall in line with them anyways. International banking and generational families who have since it's inception hoarded wealth, distributed it as it saw fit and never to ensure some economically fair class less system. There is also how they engineered trade monopoly with stock market in trade with also pyramid type or Ponzi schemes. They so took or created the concepts of land ownership, property, and classes where they continually widen the gap between rich and poor so now most people who are young will never even own their own home like their parents instead live in state created apartment complexes or cheap subpar zero space housing which will also be made expensive perhaps later. Good and services along with luxuries made unaffordable.

And whilst there is much more which could be said the modern religions and sacred intuitions of today's world are:

a) the internet and world wide web which is now being turned into a closely monitored and censored medium by corporations and their advertisers. Filling itself full of mindless, rude, and extremely vocal yet popular Cultural Marxists. And others who are self proclaimed experts without any real credentials or knowledge being the main cultural influences of today's online world. With most others being banned or censored or restricted for any dissidence. With its resulting de evolutionary imbalance -- anything not balanced, results in individuals who are arrogant self serving low impulse control often physically repulsive and mentally ill, diseased with some chronic impairment to their body or mind that drags down the world to care for them more than the fittest, or fitting the Cosmic Order is. Either that or people are looking at porn, mindless entertainment and usually state sponsored social networking sites.

b) modern unnatural concepts such as democracy and freedom focused on the sole basis that individual happiness even at the expense of Nature herself and the human species is the only thing that matters. Therefore greed, gluttony, personal safety or respectability, and sloth are king. It's queen of course being as arrogant, hedonistic and envious as possible. With modern treatments developed to try and force people to be happy so they won't get angry when they realize as many do that fame, fortune and true individual freedom is neither an enforceable thing nor does today's system actually want or desire that for people. If they did then everyone could be rich as example by hard work then they'd lose all their power from wealth. With no form of said wealth then they'd have no way to keep people in line since no one would be cut off from goods, services, their basic needs and daily bread regardless of whether or not they were treated with social rejection or ostracization.

c) A legal system with laws based upon a distorted version of Rome's at its most decadent based usually on Judeo-Christianity doctrines sufficiently made secular and in words and terms that cannot be understood by anyone whose not a lawyer so they can't defend themselves unless it's with a public defendersnt or attorney whose most of the time unequipped themselves compared to the lawyers afforded to say billionaires who commit crimes. Along with the fact that the courts judge someone based on appearance and social status.

Said laws exist only to keep the weak from the wrath of the strong and prevent Natural justice which is simple, eternal, axiomatically and in its evolved civilized state fair, stern and strict yet balanced and empathetic as well as rehabilitative or corrective to the community as well as victims as a whole. It should punish or penalize harshly only in extreme cases if at all.

Likewise said enforcers of the law like police merely serve the systems agenda of socially engineering slaves they don't protect nor serve individuals. If they did so then where does the rights guaranteed for an individual to be protected and served by an entire force of police? And again normal healthy communities unlike cities aren't overpopulated enough to be unable to be self governed with hordes of people all selfishly out for themselves or often small 4-person family or likewise brainwashed friends.

Additionally justice done out of vengeance not spoiled by sadistic pleasure and uncontrollable anger with tendencies to hold on to grudges without forgiving or forgetting even after getting even or as a vigilante is far more justice than that of today's current law and order.

Likewise ideas and belief systems are made illegal to believe. Drugs are only legalized when it provides income and matches a way or means to further dull the mind and senses or enslave people to be controlled.

Many police are given a license to kill or are sadists who look for reasons or excuses to bully. If they had no weapons or backing from the government they'd be seen as what they are: bullies.

d) Cultural Marxism, egalitarianism, multiculturalism, dislike or distrust for other cultures or such which do not fit any and all status quo conforming systems socioeconomic or otherwise. With mob rule democracy being promoted where often you only get two choices whichever wins is usually a puppet and gives the illusion of being left, right or center wing with the other accusing of far left or far right and opposing only in a very dull un progressive way. Only in revolutionary politics is there real change and the only televised revolutionary is by state sponsored antifascist groups.

There is also mindless entertainment and control of the press and media even online. So whoever is famous and rich sets the role model for others to follow slavishly when they are usually puppets themselves.

d) Indulgence in unrestricted unhealthy amounts of or practices relating to increase pleasure. Even when sexually deviant and morally detestable to most in private.

e) Banning of all speech and media or art and politics or books and their authors for anything oppositional or unique.

f) A system of taxes, loans and other debts with interests and credit report as well.

g) An education system that caters to the stupid mostly and only creates brainwashed idiots who think they are incredibly deep and intelligent because they for example have some diploma their rich parents paid for them to be able to get and is in something other than actual science, medicine, engineering or skilled trade. Given even those with these can't get jobs due to oversaturation of those with degrees and due to needing years of work experience along with those which have an often social network who were around them from an early age or are related whereby they are known to the employer already regardless of being qualified are hired.

h) Conventional morality based off usually Christianity, Ethical Egoism or secular Socialist ideas where they all "harm none" and only extreme focus on sex or degenerate sexual tastes and also celibacy and prudishness are allowed. Usually pornography as a replacement for a lover due to online dating ruining women that are dateable due to feminism or oversaturation.

These are only few examples of rather finite but lengthy modern day control structures.

Hence the status quo to oppose here is all of the above stated again to drive it home. And also any new or old system which is used to create such a similar status quo for example Cultural Marxism is new and revolutionary but it still continues the system of slave morality from Christianity and its figureheads replaced the Priests of the feudal times.

This then sums up all there is to our exoteric philosophy.

The truly genuinely esoteric one is an upcoming article.
